The recently completed landscaped courtyard on level 1, completes the Joyce Ackroyd Building refurbishment project.

All five levels of the building were renovated a few months ago, and are now occupied by three faculties: Business, Economics and Law, Social and Behavioural Sciences and Arts.

The courtyard (photos right) doubles up as an outdoor student space, with wireless access and external power points at the tables.

The landscaping design was by Wilson Landscape Architects/Cocoon Design and constructed by Stewart Constructions.
