When it finishes, the building will be fantastic. They're very great sense of optimism.

Eventually, it was decided BAP would move from South Bank, between QPAC and the Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith University. The not-quite-finished building, which will house the Queensland Conservatorium, is full of light and the view is beautiful. The building houses television news, ABC Queensland, the ABC Radio National and the ABC's multi-platform presence.

"They are trying to create a sense of community," says Steve Austin. "When you're in the building, you can see all the different programs that are going on."

Eventually, it was decided BAP would move from South Bank, between QPAC and the Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith University. The not-quite-finished building, which will house the Queensland Conservatorium, is full of light and the view is beautiful. The building houses television news, ABC Queensland, the ABC Radio National and the ABC's multi-platform presence.

Eventually, it was decided BAP would move from South Bank, between QPAC and the Queensland Conservatorium, Griffith University. The not-quite-finished building, which will house the Queensland Conservatorium, is full of light and the view is beautiful. The building houses television news, ABC Queensland, the ABC Radio National and the ABC's multi-platform presence.